

Kaisers New World Nightrain

Album Description:

“Nightrain” is the latest project from German based guitarist Frank Kaiser. Having led many projects over his long career, this new project under the apt title “Kaisers New World” sees Frank debut with a new quartet featuring Valentin Butt on bayan, the Russian variant of the accordion, together with Hans Otto on drums and Lukas Growe on double bass.

A good two years ago, the guitarist and composer from Leipzig began looking for an answer to an open question. A new sound was needed. A new instrument wasn't enough - even considering he had this specially designed and commissioned. New things come into the world primarily through encounters, encounters with people, with generations and with cultures. This new quartet featuring the accordion in the harmonic role emerged from just such an amalgamation and is now documented with the release of its debut album “Nightrain”. This album can best be described as a kaleidoscope for the ears with its influences, timbres and style sparkling throughout every nook and cranny. Above all, the ensemble centred around Frank Kaiser, empathically tells their story through this recording.
